CARTOON ITALIA

Cartoon Italia is the National Association of animation producers. It was founded in the early '90s to protect, support and promote industrial and artistic interests of the animation on the Italian national territory and abroad. CartoonItalia join to the National Cinematographic and Audiovisual Industries ANICA.

HISTORY

In May 1997, companies operating in the sector of the creation and production of audiovisuals in animation decided to unite in a trade association, Cartoon Italia. The association was founded with the primary purpose of contributing to the development in Italy of a sector that was beginning to gain weight in the international market. The need to insert themselves in a meaningful way in a market increasingly marked by elements of transnationality and the conviction that it was necessary to create a representative body pushed Italian producers toward indispensable transformations, including that of uniting in a trade association.

Aware of the development potential of Italian animation, Cartoon Italia has been working since its establishment to support, promote and protect the interests of its member companies. Cartoon Italia has established important relationships with public and private entities, other trade associations, universities, television networks, and is now the single point of contact for animation also for industry initiatives such as festivals, markets, meetings and conventions.

ETHICAL CODE:

Cartoon Italia's work in recent years has yielded positive results, and today there is a growing awareness among producers that they need to cooperate in order to effectively protect and promote the entire sector, as well as to increase the quality of Italian creativity and production, getting the recognition they deserve.

The nonprofit Cartoon Italia Association, National Association of Animation Producers (the "Association") is an open association of Enterprises in the Animation Audiovisual sector, whose purpose is to:

- a) protect and defend the rights, interests, value and development of its member Enterprises in all venues, public and private, national and international;
- b) promote and support the technological, industrial, commercial and professional growth of the sector
